SARATOGA AND SCHENECTADY RAIL ROAD.

This splendid branch of our internal improvements, which has been but lately finished, is pronounced the most complete work of the kind; and as no full description of it has been published here, we think it will not be uninteresting to our readers to see one.

It commences at the junction of the Mohawk and Hudson Rail Road, at its termination on the western inclined plane; passes the canal over a bridge, through the city; then over the Mohawk river, through the towns of Glenville, Clifton Park, Ballstown, and the village of Ballston Spa, and terminates in the central part of the village of Saratoga Springs, under a canopy, supported by a handsome colonnade. The whole distance is 21 3-4 miles. The road is in most excellent order. Sanler's culvert, which had given way, has been rebuilt. Kayadarosseras bridge, near Ballston, has been strengthened, and the walls through this city, which were weakly built, have been secured —the rails have been cleared, embankments made, ditches newly opened, and the horse paths newly slated. The carpenters' and masons' work is executed throughout in the most workmanlike manner.

Though this road has cost the company something more than was originally estimated, yet the results have exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its projectors, and the prospects before them are brilliant.

This road was principally calculated for the accommodation of travelers to the Springs; but it has become the channel of communication between the south and north, and north and west. The road facilitates the exportation of the produce of the surrounding country, and the importation of goods from the south and west.

Arrangements have been made between this company and the Mohawk and Hudson Rail Road, to transport passengers and merchandise, in a continued line, without interruption, from Albany to Ballston Spa, and Saratoga Springs. The northern travelers, on their arrival at Saratoga, will find stages to proceed to Fort Edward, Glen's Falls, Fort Ann, and Whitehall. Owing to this last arrangement, which commenced on the first week of this month, passengers to and from Albany and Whitehall begin to give the preference to this rout, as it is performed in two hours less time, and in a more comfortable manner.

The Directors of both companies, aided by their industrious and intelligent agents, have determined to make the traveling over their road the most agreeable, expeditious, and safe. Nothing will be wanting on their part to afford all reasonable comfort to the traveling community.

The road was opened for travelers in the summer of 1832, when the cholera was raging, and with the disadvantage of the works at Ballston Spa being in an unfinished state. The whole number of passengers that have traveled over the road, since that time to the first of this month, have been nearly sixty thousand, and not the slightest accident has happened.

The directors, by their experience in last year's business, have accomplished many improvements in the several branches of their administration; and the operations of the road have been methodized, and simplified. The company is to be governed by by laws, and the agents subject to such regulations as will secure the most beneficial results.—Another locomotive engine is to be added next spring. Constant supplies of the best English coal are to be kept for the use of the locomotive. Their cars are built in the most approved manner, and they have also a suitable number of freight wagons and horses. They will be able to carry, if necessary, three times the number of passengers they did last year, and equal to 20,000 tons of freight, if required.

It is estimated that the business operations of this road, alone, without calculating the traveling to the Springs, in the summer season, will secure to the stockholders a handsome income. The Utica Rail Road Company will probably make a junction with this road. An increase of business, therefore, may be calculated upon with certainty.

The vast increase of travel to the Springs, last season, tested the utility of the road; but the great improvements made in the late arrangements with the Mohawk and Hudson Rail Road Company will contribute greatly to the ease and comfort of traveling, and hold out fresh inducements for them to make frequent visits to this part of the country.

The executive committee are preparing a report, full of interesting matter, which is to be published. As it will shortly appear, the above sketch of the state of the road is considered at present sufficient for the information of the public and the friends of the company. The capital stock of the company is 285,000, in shares of 100 dollars each, and can be increased, if necessary, to 300,000 dollars.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.

Baron de Behr, the Belgian Minister resident, has arrived in this city. It is not probable that he will keep up any regular establishment. I refer to this gentleman, because he is far above the common routine of those whom the late Mr. Randolph used to term "third and fourth rate diplomatists, that figure at Washington." The Baron evinces great curiosity and enthusiasm in matters relating to our country.—He has also that ardor about questions of mere learning, which characterizes the German scholar, with all the vivacity of a Frenchman.

The Post Office Department is laboring under various embarrassments and difficulties. Those embarrassments can no longer be covered up by extra appropriations for contingencies, clerk hire, &c. It is said, and I believe it, that the large contractors are becoming clamorous. The funds are deficient, and in some instances have been anticipated. It is added that, without the authority of law, money has been borrowed, and interest paid thereon, to meet daily expenses. Your Manhattan Bank, I am informed, but almost doubt it, has recently loaned the department one hundred thousand dollars. Can this be true?

I have read your paper, of the 19th inst., containing an account of the presentation of check for 500,000 dollars on the New York Branch, by the Manhattan Bank. The bungling manner in which this business has been managed by the government cashiers in your city, has disappointed the Kitchen Cabinet. Let me give you a peep behind the curtain. When the three checks of 500,000 dollars each, on the United States Bank, were given to your State Banks by the Secretary of the Treasury, they were instructed to "communicate" with the Branch, previous to their presentation. The hint was cautiously given, but it was supposed would be understood. The design was, that the three Banks should move simultaneously, and the hope, if not the belief, was, that the Branch might express a desire not to pay all the money at once, inasmuch as it would compel them to curtail greatly their mercantile loans. Had the Branch made such an appeal, it would have been complied with, but the ears of the people would have been dinned with the tale of falsehood, that the United States Bank was unable to meet the checks of the government, and that your Manhattan, Mechanics,' and American Banks had granted it indulgence. All the changes of the three per cent. stock story would again been rung. Such was the plan of the conspirators. But, through stupidity and jealousy, the experiment has not been made. Yes, I say jealousy; for, be it known to you, that from the moment Amos Kendall arrived in your city, down to the present hour, one of these "pets" has been intriguing against his brother, and not without effect. "Nous Verrons."

Since the early part of the month, the new Secretary of the Treasury, (Mr. Taney,) had been poring over the October statement of the United States Bank. Its numerous columns and long lines have bewildered the financier. It nearly covers, in width, five feet of his table: And, in the language of Poor Richard, he is ready to exclaim —"this is too much for my poor head." As it is a public document, I may be permitted to give you a few of its items. From this statement, it appears that, on the 1st of November, instant, the Bank held of—

Treasurer's Deposit,	-	$6,100,000
Public Offices do.,	- -	1,360,000
Due the United States,	-	$7,460,000
Against this demand, the Banks held the bills or notes of specie paying banks,	- -	$2,072,000
Balances against the State Bank,	- -	2,417,000
Due by Baring, Brothers & Co., London,	-	2,098,000
		$6,587,000
Balance to be provided for,	-	$873,000

To meet this demand of 873,000 dollars, the Bank had in its vaults, in specie, as per statement, 10,342,000 dollars. It is proper to add, that so rapid are the government drafts, the balance is reduced to less than 3,000,000 dollars.

Thus, it appears that this Bank, which the Kitchen Cabinet said was unable to meet the demands of the government, was not only prepared on the first November to pay them off, but that a clear balance, after paying the Treasury Deposits, was left in their vaults, of ten millions of dollars in specie; a sum, I venture to predict, equal to three times the amount of all the specie that all the banks employed by the government will ever possess at one period.

The city is filled with rumors as to the next Speaker. It is said that Mr. Stevenson, on the opening of the House, will be re-elected; but that subsequently he is to be sent to the Court of St. James, and Dr. Sutherland to succeed him as Speaker. That a portion of the Kitchen Cabinet have given such assurances, I have no doubt, because I have good reason to believe that Mr. Sutherland has made his peace in that quarter. Of the conditions, something may be said hereafter.

THE SPY IN WASHINGTON.

From the National Intelligencer, November 25.

THE LATE METEORIC PHENOMENON.—Though we have already given numerous accounts of this extraordinary appearance of the Shower of Stars, we are induced to copy the following historical account of similar appearances in by gone times, from that well edited Southern Journal, the Newbern Spectator.

"As early as the year 472, in the month of Novem ber, too, a phenomenon of this kind took place near Constantinople, when, as Theophanes and others relate, "the sky appeared to be on fire."—A black dust was deposited. A fall, exactly similar, took place in Canada, between the 3d and 4th of July, 1814, and another at Montreal, in November, 1819. In 1810, "inflamed substances" fell into a round lake Van, in Armenia, which stained the water of a blood color, and cleft the earth in various places. On the 5th of September, 1819, a like phenomenon was seen in Moravia; and history furnishes many more. In all these cases a deposit was left, in most instances so plentifully as to admit of chemical analyzation. Since the above was written, we met with the following account of a phenomenon which was seen in Cumana, on the 12*th of November*, 1799, with which, on various accounts, we are inclined to class that of Wednesday, though some of the accounts which we have heard do not authorize this classification.

"On the 12th of November, 1799, there was seen a very remarkable exhibition of shooting stars at Cumana, in South America, and over most of the West India Islands. The following account of it is from the pen of a gentleman who witnessed it. He says, 'I was called up about three o'clock in the morning, to see the shooting of stars, as it is called. The phenomenon was grand and awful. The whole heavens appeared as if illuminated with sky rockets, which disappeared only by the light of the sun, after day break. These meteors appeared as numerous as the stars, flying in all possible directions except from the earth, towards which they all inclined, more or less, and some of them descended perpendicularly over the vessel we were in, so that I was in constant expectation of their falling upon us.' "

From the Syracuse Constitutionalist.

ANECDOTE.

When Napoleon took it into his head to be "The Government," he thought that it would be a safe usage to get the public opinion of the army. The question was accordingly submitted to the military with the understanding that "it was a question on which they might conscientiously differ with their head and with each other." This has given rise among historians to a piece of scandal.

There was one regiment which was considered not quite orthodox; however faultless its rank and file may have been as mere soldiers, their political discipline was deemed somewhat defective. But the commander, who was a straight haired politician, was duly impressed with the importance of having his regiment a unit in such matters, and straightway set about improving its organization and discipline. So when the day arrived when their free suffrages were to be given, the regiment was drawn up in line, and the Colonel informed them of the object for which they were assembled, viz: to vote on the question of investing the First Consul with supreme power; instructing them to vote just as they pleased; to consult their own opinions without regard to his. After which the Colonel communicated to them a Message, the substance of which we give below, in the appropriate, if not in the exact words.

"Having carefully and anxiously considered all the facts and arguments of the case, the Col. deems it his duty to communicate, in this manner, to his Regiment, the final conclusions of his own mind, and the reasons on which they are founded, in order to put them in a durable form, and to prevent misconceptions." * * * "The Colonel could not, in justice to the responsibility which he owes to the First Consul, refrain from pressing upon the Regiment his view of the considerations which impel to immediate action." * * * "In the performance of this high trust, it is his undoubted right to express to those whom the First Consul and his own choice have made his associates in the administration of the Regiment, his opinion of their duties under circumstances as they arise. It is this right which he now exercises. Far be it from him to except or require that any member of the Regiment should, at his request, order, or dictation, do any act which he believes unlawful, or in his conscience condemns." But, the man who does not vote for the First Consul, I will shoot at the head of the Regiment.

Then, lest men should stupidly mistake this for a hint in regard to which way he wished them to vote, the Colonel explains. "In the remarks he has made on this all important question, he trusts that the Regiment will see only the frank and respectful declaration of the opinions which the Colonel has formed on a question of great national interest, deeply affecting the character and usefulness of his administration; and not a spirit of dictation, which the Colonel would be as careful to avoid as ready to resist." Therefore, the man who does not vote for the First Consul, I will shoot at the head of the Regiment.

Then, lest it should still be captiously and slanderously said that the Colonel wished to influence their opinions, he thus enlarges upon the idea: "The Colonel again repeats that he begs his Regiment to consider the proposed measure as his own, in the support of which he shall require no one to make a sacrifice of opinion or principle." Therefore, the man who does not vote for the First Consul, I will shoot at the head of the Regiment.

Towards the close of the Message, the Colonel remarks: "Happy will he be, if the facts now disclosed produce uniformity of opinion and unity of action among the members of the Regiment." It is, perhaps, needless to say, that in this case, such was the effect. All prejudices were removed: the result was a cheering indication of the harmony of this truly Democratic regiment, all the votes being cast for the man of the people's choice. The fact was straightway published in all the sound Democratic journals, after which the accounts were collected into the columns of "The Government" paper at Paris, under the head of "Public Opinion."

"Far be it from him," says the President, "to expect or require that any member of the Cabinet should, at his request, order, or direction, do any act which he believes unlawful, or in his conscience condemns"—Therefore, Mr. Duane, remove the deposits, or I remove you.

"In the remarks which he has made, he trusts the Secretary of the Treasury will see only the frank and respectful declaration of the opinions which the President has formed on a measure of great national interest, and not a spirit of dictation, which the President would be as careful to avoid as ready to resist"—Therefore, Mr. Secretary, remove the deposits, or take up your line of march for Philadelphia.

"The President again repeats that he begs his Cabinet to consider the proposed measure as his own, in the support of which he shall require no one to make a sacrifice of opinion or principle:" Therefore, Mr. Duane, remove the deposits, or discover your pedestrianism down Pennsylvania Avenue.

The subject of the "test oath" is again revived in the South Carolina papers. The design of exacting from every citizen an oath of primary and exclusive allegiance to the State, as a qualification for office, and a condition for the exercise of the right of suffrage, has been avowed by some of the papers of the dominant party, as a part of the policy of the next Legislature. The 'unionists' protest vehemently against it, and announce a determination to resist it. "If," says the Courier, "they succeed in their unrighteous purpose, mischief, dire, if not bloody, will be the result."—Again—"The Legislature of the State should hesitate long to exercise a power of this kind, conferred in a moment of high party excitement, especially when its execution could not fail to light anew the now dying embers of domestic discord, and involve us again in a disastrous and perhaps bloody struggle."—Balt. Amer.

It is stated that the pecuniary deficiency in the Post Office Department is upwards of eight hundred thousand dollars. This may be an exaggeration; but supposing it to be exact, the President has only to order that so much of the public deposits be transferred to the Post Master General to supply the deficiency—combler le deficit.—Nat. Gaz.

The New York American, referring to the rumored movement of troops towards the frontier of Alabama, says, no doubt from good information, that—"there is no doubt that eight companies of Artillery, amounting to about three hundred and fifty men, have been ordered forthwith to Fort Mitchell, Alabama, from Fortress Monroe, Va., and two companies from Tellico plains, in Tennessee."

Buffalo, Niagara, Nov. 19.

Early Winter.—On Saturday and Sunday last, we had an unprecedented fall of snow for the season; the fall of such a quantity, in so short a time, is very uncommon in this place, at any season.—It now lies in this vicinity, of an average depth, from fifteen inches to two feet! We have good sleighing.

Commerce of Buffalo, N. Y.—Our store houses, wharves, and vessels in the harbor, are crowded with merchandise for the far west, which is daily accumulating by arrivals on the canal. This morning our harbor contained seventy vessels, of all descriptions, which navigate the lake.

The Circuit Court of the United States met in this city on the 22d instant. Application will be made to it for an injunction in the proceeding against Lieutenant Randolph. The judges may discharge him upon the ground of gross irregularity and abuse of the power given by the act of Congress of May, 1820—or by his giving security for what may appear actually due. It is said Mr. Randolph had discovered a forgotten receipt of A. Kendall, for 3,000 dollars. If this be so, the deficit established by the Court of Enquiry, will be reduced to a mere song, of a few hundred dollars. The proceeding against him is a harsh and unprecedented abuse of the power given the Government, under the act aforesaid.—Richmond Whig.

If proof were wanting of the general intelligence of the people, and the general freedom from the thraldom of blind superstition, it is afforded by the manner in which the late meteoric phenomenon has been regarded by the mass of our population. In most countries, so uncommon an occurrence would have agitated the whole community, and they who take advantage of popular delusion to secure an unbridled sway over the multitude, would, by playing upon their excited terrors, have accomplished their own selfish and wicked ends. But with us, so general is the diffusion of knowledge, that there are few persons so ignorant or deluded, as to regard it in any other light than as a phenomenon which philosophy can find out.—We have indeed seen a paragraph, which stated that a female preacher at the East, was endeavoring to persuade her hearers that the end of the world was at hand, and the "falling stars" were but a frightful portent of that event. It is to be expected that this prophetess will not be alone, that others will sieze upon the circumstance as a means of exciting fears and working upon the imaginations of the weak and the ignorant, but in the main, people are too intelligent to be operated on by such means.—N. Y. Standard.

THE KITCHEN CABINET.

A new song to an old Tune.

Hurrah, my lads! come sing a strain,
Let no voice have a stitch in;
Come, trumpet forth with sounding praise,
The scullions of the Kitchen!

CHORUS.

Yankee Doodle, we're the boys,
We varmants of the Kitchen;
Tho' beggars, we've found out the place
That we may all get rich in!

The fine folks, in the famed cast room,
May think themselves bewitching;
But they can't hold a candle to
The sullions in the Kitchen!
Chorus, &c.

We hate the truth, 'tis all a hum,
If not, may we shot sirs;
We ne'er can want a stock of lies
While B. and K. we've got, sirs.
Chorus, &c.

An honest man is our contempt,
We love to soil his robe, sirs;
And when we find one in our way,
We hunt him through the Globe, sirs!
Chorus, &c.

Nick Biddle's money box is strong,
No hands of ours it greases;
But Amos, with his loud 'Report,'
Shall blow it all to pieces.
Chorus, &c.

The Public Lands we mean to filch,
With sundry other choses;
If Congress bother us with 'Ayes,'
We'll veto them with 'Noes-es.'
Chorus, &c.

We once deputed Mr. Blair
The City Branch to harrow;
We got some specie out of that,
And wheel'd it on a barrow.
Chorus, &c.

He put it in another Bank,
But, ah! it would not 'stay put;'
A counter check made his account
As empty as a caput!
Chorus, &c.

We dabble largely in the stocks,
And work by hocus pocus;
The Bulls and Bears are shy of us,
We diddle all the Brokers.
Chorus, &c.

The opposition vainly try
To smother us with frowning;
And league in with a meddling fool,
That rascal, Major Downing!
Chorus, &c.

The collar press our asses are,
Like asses they have packs on;
They have not souls to call their own,
For we are Gin'ral Jackson!
Chorus, &c.

The Kitchen's our fast property,
Our places we're secure in—
For is not Matty heir at law?
Oh! rarest Mat Van Buren!

CHORUS.

Then Yankee Doodle! sing, my boys,
The scullions of the Kitchen;
The scoundrels have found out the place
Which they may all get rich in! **

D. 1833, the petition of James Gray, of Wilkins township, being read to the Court, in which is set forth, that the said James Gray is the owner of a certain portion of Lot, No. 325, in the city of Pittsburgh, bounded by Market street, by Fourth street, and by the other portion of the said lot, being in front, on Market street, thirty feet, and in depth, on Fourth street, about one hundred and two feet, on which are erected a three story brick house and other buildings; that, on the eleventh day of June, A. D. 1823, Samuel K. Page, who claimed, at that time, to be the owner of the said property, executed a mortgage thereof, to a certain John H. D. 1826, assigned the said mortgage to John McDonald, of the city of Pittsburgh, since deceased; that, on the seventh day of December, A. D. 1830, it was agreed, by and between the said John McDonald and a certain C. O. FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land containing		330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots, containing about		6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio. which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
